

Plagiarism Checker

SNU Central Library
Library Liaison/Research Support Team

How it works?

1. A student uploads a paper to Turnitin.com
2. The paper is compared to millions of books/publications; over 45 billion web pages; and 337 million student papers.
3. Results are returned in seconds, showing matches of the student paper to content from the Turnitin database.

Content Databases

- The Current and Archived Web: Similar to Google and Bing, Turnitin has built a web crawler that crawls the Internet and indexes content into a searchable form. Turnitin currently contains over 45 billion web pages from the current web as well as archived web pages.
- Student Papers: Over 50 percent of plagiarism comes from other students' work. Turnitin compares submitted papers to a database of over 337 million papers in the Turnitin paper database. Each day, the Turnitin student database grows by 190,000 papers.
- Content Partnerships: Turnitin has partnered with leading content publishers, including library databases, text-book publishers, digital reference collections, subscription-based publications, homework helper sites and books.

You have a five-page paper due tomorrow, and you haven't even started it yet. What should you do? It would be so easy to look online for an essay related to your topic. You could buy somebody else's paper, or just copy down some information from Wikipedia, but you'd better think twice before you cut corners like this. Plagiarism can get you into some serious trouble.

Plagiarism is the "wrongful appropriation" and "stealing and publication" of another author's "words, thoughts, ideas, or expressions" and the representation of them as his own original work. The idea stays problematic with unclear definitions and unclear rules. The modern concept of plagiarism as immoral and originality as an ideal appeared Europe only in the 18th century, particularly with the Romantic movement.

Plagiarism is regarded academic dishonesty and a breach of journalistic ethics. It is subject to sanctions like penalties, suspension, and even expulsion. Recently, cases of "academic dishonesty" have been identified in academia.

“Is there an acceptable similarity rate?”

The screenshot displays the Turnitin interface. At the top, there are tabs for 'Originality', 'GradeMark', and 'PeerMark'. The document title is 'Impact of Asian'. The Turnitin logo is visible, along with a similarity score of 72% and a '무사' (Safe) status. The document text is highlighted in green, and a red dashed box highlights a specific paragraph. On the right, a sidebar shows a list of sources with their respective similarity percentages, with the first source highlighted by a red dashed box.

16 As the biggest multi-sport games after the Olympic Games, the Asian Games is the most prestigious event organized by the Olympic Council of Asia. Similar to the Olympic Games, the Asian Games are held every four years, with the 17th edition to be held in Incheon in 2014.

The Asian Games follow the sports programme of the Olympic Games, with swimming and athletics as the core sports, as well as featuring disciplines which reflect the diverse sporting culture of the continent such as sepaktakraw (South East Asia), kabaddi (South Asia) and wushu (East Asia).

The inaugural Asian Games took place in New Delhi, India, in 1951 with 11 countries competing in six sports. The 16th Asian Games in Guangzhou, China,
